

Ignatian Ministry in the 21st Century : a presentation for those ministering to young adults

This workshop will explore how to develop and promote spiritual activities for young adults including those unconnected to a church or faith tradition.

Andy Otto is an Ignatian blogger, author and spiritual guide. He currently works in adult faith formation and retreat direction at a Jesuit parish and retreat centre in Atlanta, Georgia, USA. Andy holds a master's degree in theology and ministry from Boston College and is the creator and editor of GodInAllThings.com, a website devoted to sharing the treasures of Ignatian spirituality. Andy also founded IgnatianResources.com, a project of God In All Things which offers resources for individuals and groups.

Sarah Otto has a Masters in Divinity and works in the same Jesuit parish with Andy. Passionate about justice, she has spent time in Central America and has volunteered in prison and hospital ministry. As a new mom, Sarah is particularly enthusiastic about ministering to women and families, but continues to enjoy helping people discern how to live a faith that does justice.

Friday October 26, 9:30 – 3:30 pm
at Campion CIS

Cost: $80 (includes morning tea & lunch)

To make a booking, go to:

<https://www.trybooking.com/YBHL>
Campion Centre of Ignatian Spirituality
99 Studley Park Road, Kew VIC 3101
Ph: +61-3-9854-8110
secretary@campion.asn.au

